

With Aggressive Release Schedule Through Remainder of 2004, BuilderMT Will Introduce “Click to Learn Help System,” One-Click
“Auto-Updates,” and Wireless Scheduling

BuilderMT Users to Benefit Include 400 Builder Corporations and 2,800 Users Responsible for 140,000 Housing Starts Annually.

Lakewood, Colorado—September 21, 2004 — BuilderMT, the nation’s leading provider of production management software for residential homebuilders, today announced it is undertaking a dramatic rollout of new products and enhancements through the Fall 2004, leading up to the release and demonstration of BuilderMT’s new “wireless scheduling” tools at the International Builders’ Show in January in Orlando, FL.

Already the homebuilding industry’s most-advanced project management software, BuilderMT will now offer these new features: “Click to Learn,” where training on BuilderMT’s Workflow Management Suite can be done from the builder’s desktop and One-Click Software “Auto-Updates,” where the latest version of BuilderMT is available for instant download through a desktop link. Perhaps most importantly, BuilderMT will be introducing a secure wireless scheduling tool that allows any authorized field worker to use wireless devices (such as “Smart Phones”, and Blackberries) to update BuilderMT’s Workflow Management Suite from any location. Because BuilderMT’s Workflow Management Suite is tightly linked to Timberline Office, these field updates will be integrated directly into the Timberline Office accounting system. Timberline Office is developed by Timberline, a Best Software company, part of the Sage Group, plc.

To access these new features—which will also include enhanced report generators—BuilderMT has introduced a customizable, user-definable Workflow Management Suite for controlling a builder’s operations. (Reports can be viewed in the suite at various secure levels). The combined power of these new BuilderMT features will further bolster BuilderMT’s reputation as a stable, future-ready software program, in a competitive landscape noted for rapidly changing ownership and software systems in need of upgrading.

“Given the industry’s size, the builder software market has been remarkably volatile over the last five years, but we believe we offer not only an island of stability, but a program of technology enhancements second to none,” said Tom Gebes, President, BuilderMT. “With our Timberline alliance, we have teamed with the oldest, most-widely-used, well-funded, stable accounting system in the market, and we have brought to Timberline the most-advanced builder processes, which we support with “click-to-learn help systems”, and auto-updating. We are proud to call ourselves the most advanced, stable software builder package in today's homebuilding market."
